

Gator Tales

Pre-class Activity

Directions: In this activity, you and a partner will complete the maze by answering the questions and following the arrows. Your teacher will tell you where to write your answers. This is not a race, but a chance for you and your partner to see what you know about reptiles, amphibians, and the adaptations that some of them use to survive. As you read and answer the questions, keep in mind that you will hear these topics again!

Gator Tales

Post-class Activity

Directions: Now that you have taken Gator Tales at Driftwood, it's time for you to put your knowledge to the test. During class, you and your instructor talked about turtles, alligators and snakes. Now it's your turn to write what you know by filling out the Venn Diagram below. For each animal, write two specific facts you learned. In the middle, write 4 things all the animals have in common.
